AFTER GARRISON'S REVOLT

Latter Went Out Because of Reported
Resignation of Gen. Pasqual Orozco
—American Lines Controlled
by U. S. Soldiers To-day.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 1.—At 8:30 this morning the scene of order began to replace the rioting which came on the heels of last night's revolt of the garrison at Juarez, Mexico, just across the Rio Grande river. Guards were stationed to stop looting, particularly of saloons, and the drink-inflamed malcontents were placed under restraint so far as possible. Col. Edgar Z. Steever, with two troops of cavalry, patrolled the American side of the river and refused a permit to Americans to cross to the Mexican shore.

Last night's defection is said to have been caused by the reported resignation of Gen. Pasqual Orozco, Promiscuous firing occurred in the streets, and cries of "Vive Zapata" were heard. The outbreak began at 6:30 o'clock when the 300 Maderistas soldiers in Juarez garrison rushed upon their commander, Col. Estrada, and the chief of police, Colonel Gatto, locked both in prison and released all prisoners in the city jail.

Several hundred shots were fired into the air by the mutineers to terrify the residents and then all stores in Juarez in which there was a possibility of securing arms and ammunition were looted.

Selecting Captain Martinez as their leader, the mutineers drove all the Americans across the river, seized the Mexican Central train that was about to depart for the capital and sent across south to blow up the railroad bridges and prevent troops reaching Juarez from Chihuahua or Mexico City.

Desultory firing was heard in various parts of the city as the soldiers continued their search for loot and drove out foreigners. Street car traffic was stopped early. The front of the Banco Minero was broken in, but it is said the soldiers were unable to break into the vaults.

Gus Ruhnke and Fred L. Leyva, employees of a keno house, were wounded when the building was riddled by insurgent bullets.

Mexico City, Feb. 1.—Pasqual Orozco, commander of the Mexican garrison at Juarez, has tendered his resignation to President Madero to return to his former occupation as a "freighter." At the request of President Madero, however, Orozco has agreed to retain his command until March 1.

In his letter of resignation Orozco explained that he desired to quit the army solely for business reasons.

THREE BOSTON HOTELS
IN FIRE DANGERAs Flames Swept Away $40,000 In Paint-shops and Carpentersshops on Province Court in Boston To-day.

Boston, Feb. 1.—A nest of paintshops and carpentersshops on Province court, in the heart of the city, was burned to the ground this morning, and the guests of three hotels in close proximity were thrown into considerable excitement. These hotels were the Boston tavern, the Province house and the Parker house. The flames for a time threatened to destroy those buildings. The total loss is estimated to be $40,000 and is divided among forty or more individuals. The buildings destroyed had long been regarded as a great fire menace, as the district is very closely built up.

PICKING UP COAL, KILLED.
Harold Belcher, Aged 8, Victim of Train at Pittsfield, Mass.

Pittsfield, Mass., Feb. 1.—Harold Belcher, 8 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Belcher of Pittsfield Junction, was struck and killed by the locomotive of a Boston & Albany west-bound freight near his home at 6:20 last night.

He was picking up coal with his older brother, Everett, and jumped from one track to avoid a train, directly in front of another.

Engineer Morris O'Connell of the freight said he did not see the boy in time to stop his train. The victim leaves a father, step-mother and several brothers and sisters.

LAWRENCE MILLS
FAR MORE ACTIVEIt Is Declared That Fifty Per Cent.
More Operatives Returned to Work
This Morning Than Yesterday's Total.

Lawrence, Mass., Feb. 1.—Only two textile mills failed to open their gates this morning, and the crowd of operatives returning to work was estimated to be 50 per cent. greater than yesterday when, according to the claim made by the manufacturers, 40 per cent. of the help was at work. The activity of the strikers was not evident to-day. In fact, they have been quiet ever since the arrest of their leader, Joseph J. Ettor, Tuesday night. The men at the head of the strikers claim that the operatives will remain firm in their demand for an increase in wages.

An autopsy was performed yesterday upon the body of John Rami, the Syrian, who was stabbed during a small riot Tuesday morning, in an effort to determine whether he had been stabbed by the bayonet of a militiaman or had died of a knife-thrust from someone in the crowd. If the autopsy settled the question, the authorities did not make the fact public.

Colonel Sweetzer, the military commander, rescinded the permission he had granted for a parade in connection with the funeral of the Lopez woman, for fear that there might be an outbreak among the body of ten thousand strikers who had planned to participate. Word of his action did not reach the strikers until several hundred had gathered about the undertaking establishment where the line of march was to have been formed, and it was necessary to send a squad of soldiers to the scene to disperse them. When the militiamen appeared, the crowd quietly melted away. Lete ten soldiers and a body was laid away in St. Mary's cemetery, the funeral procession consisting of only the hearse and one carriage.

ALASKA WAS QUIVERING.
At Intervals Yesterday, Many Shocks
Being Felt.

Corvallis, Alaska, Feb. 1.—Heavy earthquake shocks were felt yesterday throughout southwestern Alaska and far into the interior. The tremors were felt on the coast as far west as Seward. Fairbanks, 350 miles inland, reports that it was severe in the Tanana valley.

Four shocks were felt at Corvallis, the first and most severe coming at 11:12 o'clock. The first shock lasted ten seconds and caused buildings to sway alarmingly, but no damage was done.

The warm weather continues throughout this section of Alaska. Heavy rains are falling in the foothills, an unprecedented condition for this time of the year.

Valdez, Alaska, Feb. 1.—A violent earthquake shock was felt here at 10:12 o'clock yesterday morning, continuing 50 seconds. The movement was from north-east to south-west, with an oscillation of six degrees. The earthquake was the severest ever experienced here. Nine tremors of brief duration followed the first shock. No damage was done here.

Owing to the warm winter and strong northwest current, ascribed in Alaska to a change in the course of the Japanese current, but accounted for by scientists as due to continued southwest gales, the earthquakes caused great excitement. There is much speculation as to possible changes in the ocean floor.

Since noon three more shocks have been felt here, the first at 12:55 and the others at intervals of about an hour. The tremor in the morning was of sufficient violence to shake goods off the shelves in the stores and to stop clocks.

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 1.—The earthquake felt at Valdez, Alaska, yesterday was recorded on the seismograph at the university of Washington. The record showing that the oscillation began at 11:40 a. m., Pacific time, and continued for an hour and a half. Forty-five minutes after the first vibration, there were two severe shocks, lasting two minutes each and separated by an interval of one minute.

PROMINENT MAGNATE
OF RAILROADS DEADEdwin Hawley, President of Minneapolis
& St. Louis and the Iowa Central
Roads, Died in New York City To-day.

New York, Feb. 1.—Edwin Hawley, president of the Minneapolis & St. Louis railroad and one of the leading railroad magnates in the country, died at his home here to-day after an illness of several weeks.

President Hawley was born in Chatham, N. Y., in 1850, and early in life entered upon work with railroads. He had been president of the Minneapolis & St. Louis line since 1899 and president of the Iowa Central railroad since 1900. He also was a director of several other railway companies. He had his office at 25 Broad street in this city.

TURLEY BEING OBSERVED.

Barre Quarryman Sent to Insane Asylum From State Prison.

Waterbury, Feb. 1.—John Turley, who was convicted at the September term of Washington county court of murder in the second degree in killing John McAuley at Westerville July 12, and who was sentenced to life imprisonment, is at the state hospital here for observation, having been transferred at the instigation of Warden Lovell of the state prison at Windsor.

Turley is alleged to have shown some signs of mental trouble, while in jail at Montpelier following his conviction and his conduct at the prison has been such that Warden Lovell thought it best to have him sent to the state hospital for observation.

Dr. D. D. Grout, superintendent of the hospital brought him here on last Wednesday. Dr. Grout is not prepared to say anything regarding Turley's condition.

Turley's appeal will be heard at the next session of supreme court, when he will ask for a new trial. It is expected the report of his mental condition will be submitted at that time.

Had Lost on Wall Street.

New York, Feb. 1.—A squad of detectives waited in vain last night in Central park to catch the writer of a threatening letter sent to J. P. Morgan, Jr., demanding that $100,000 be deposited at a certain spot in the east drive under penalty of something serious happening. It is understood that the letter said the writer had lost money in Wall street and considered it to be up to Mr. Morgan to make restitution. The letter is believed to have been written by a crank.

BOY MYSTERIOUSLY
GONE FROM PLAINFIELDErnest Williams, Aged 8, Has Not Been Seen Since Yesterday Afternoon
—Search Being Made Far and Wide.

Plainfield, Feb. 1.—Ernest Williams, the eight-year-old boy who has been living at Mrs. Emma Best Hatcher's this winter, cannot be found. He attended school as usual yesterday afternoon and was seen by some of the pupils and people of the village about 3:30 o'clock, since which time no trace can be found. Telephones have been busy, and the mill and the river have been searched. The boy's relatives and friends are much puzzled and fear the child may have met with injuries or that he has been kidnapped.

STRANGLED HIMSELF.

W. E. Boyce of Granville, N. Y., Had Been in Ill Health.

Granville, N. Y., Feb. 1.—W. E. Boyce, a resident of this place about 12 years, was found strangled at his rooms at the residence of Mrs. Gertrude Green on Church street yesterday morning, by J. W. Mayo, another roomer. Boyce had been indisposed and had had a boy with him to give him medicine during the night, but had sent the boy home. He attached the cord of his bath robe upon it in such a manner as to strangle himself.

Ceremony in Holy Cross Cathedral and Five Hundred Priests in White Robes Preceded Procession.

Boston, Feb. 1.—The welcome to William Cardinal O'Connell, archbishop of Boston, was continued to-day with pontifical mass of thanksgiving at the cathedral of the Holy Cross. The service was the most gorgeous display of papal pomp ever seen in New England. More than two thousand persons witnessed the ceremony and five hundred priests in white vestments were in advance of the procession. Bishop John J. Nilan of Hartford, Conn., was the celebrant of the mass and Bishop Anderson of Boston delivered the address of welcome.

$240 IN OUTLAWED TAXES.

Montpelier Board of Civil Authority Had Busy Session.

The Montpelier board of civil authority found out $240 in outlawed taxes at their meeting last night for 1905 and before, most of them being poll taxes. During the session, 95 regular taxes were abated, and Justice Wheelock stated there were probably 150 cases of double assessment. The state and county tax has been paid on most of these, yet the city gets no returns.

The regular meeting of the city council was held after the board meeting, when the administrator's deed to the Brassaw farm at Berlin pond was accepted, the price paid being $1,350.

The Pettigill-Andrews company presented a bill for $214.08 for work on the gas fixtures in the city hall, but agreed to accept any settlement the council might make. The building committee figured the same bill at $100.50. F. A. Walker presented his bill of $360.50 for blue prints used in building the city hall. Some thought the architect should pay this bill, and H. J. M. Jones was called into the meeting to explain the Walker bill. He said that at first he objected to the bill, but since Mr. Walker had made some concessions he considered it all right, and it was therefore ordered paid.

R. T. Ladden presented a petition, asking for the use of five feet of the right side of North Main street for a toboggan slide. The slide would begin at the top of the hill and be used to North street. This action follows the public meeting which was held in Barre a few weeks ago and at which no one appeared in opposition to the new railroad, although the new railroad will be in direct competition with the Barre railroad.
